Terms and Conditions:

Synchrony Bank Recurring Payments Authorization Agreement

To complete your request to enroll (or modify enrollment) in the Recurring Payments program, please read and agree to the information below. To ensure proper withdrawal of your payment, please provide the proper routing and transit and checking (or savings) account numbers from the bottom of your check when setting up your bank account information with us. To ensure that your Recurring Payment is processed and to avoid potential fees, you may want to consider overdraft protection, which is available at most financial institutions. We will notify you by email when the Recurring Payments program has been established for your account. Until then, please continue to make payments on your account as you normally do. If you have any questions, please call our customer service at the number on the back of your credit card or on your billing statement. Please print or save a copy of

Important Information

What is Autopay?

When enrolled, the payment amount you select during the setup is paid automatically from your bank account on your Payment Due Date. The automatic payment amount may be reduced by additional payments, credits and/or returns posted on or before your Payment Due Date.

When does it start?

Your Autopay enrollment is effective immediately for your upcoming payment due date. The same time-of-day restrictions apply to Autopay as other scheduled payments, except you cannot enroll, modify, or cancel Autopay (1) on your due date after 5:00 PM (ET) Eastern Time, or (2) on or after 5:00 PM (ET) Eastern Time on Friday if your due date is Saturday.

How do I make a one-time payment?

From the Payments tab > click single and follow the easy steps.

How do I make a change to Autopay?

Once enrolled, from the Payments tab > click Autopay to make changes to your set up

Thinking about changing your due date and enrolling in or modifying automatic payment\(s\)?

If you have or are planning to contact customer service to change your payment due date, please do not enroll in auto pay or modify your current auto pay settings within 24 hours (before or after) of making your payment due date change.
